Humphrey Defense Resumed Cooling Off' Delayed by Hernia for Sen. Symington

George is politically motivated and constitutes a "stab in the back."

Humphrey, now honorary chairman of Hanna, has told the senators his company realized a reasonable profit of $7.5 million on a contract to supply nickel to the government's stockpile of strategic metals. The contract was signed four days before the industrialist was sworn in as a member of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's cabinet.

Symington contends the Hanna company's own income tax returns show a $15-million profit and that government auditors estimate "profits and windfalls" totaling at least $34 million on a total production cost of $11,199,000.

Miss Monroe Was Probable Suicide Victim

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The official file on the death of Marilyn Monroe was closed Friday with a coroner's ruling that it was a probable suicide.

Coroner Theodore Curphey said the vibrant blonde could have died from either of two lethal drug doses found during an autopsy.

A team of doctors said that Miss Monroe—known flitter with the vibrant blonde could have died from either of two lethal drug doses found during an autopsy.

The pattern of an undetermined number of previous suicide attempts, the team reported, had always been halted by an urgent call for rescue.

Her death, discovered Aug. 5 in the locked bedroom of her Brentwood home, involved the same familiar pattern—even to a hand clutching the phone.

But rescue never came the last time.

McNamara Convinced His Scrutiny Saved $4 Million in Defense Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, trusted with the job of drawing up strategic papers, or of originating strategic ideas.

McNamara uses this staff to abstract—to boil down—the encyclopedia-size reports that are sent to him. McNamara is known to feel he couldn't hope to absorb the contents of the many reports unaided.

Some sources suggested that McNamara's centralizing actions in the Pentagon were in retaliation for his refusing to budge so far on the RS70 bomber or on re-

Soviets Launch New Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a satellite, Cosmos 8, into orbit today. Tass announced.

Previous Russian satellites in the Cosmos series have been unmanned. The launching announcement came as the Soviet Union prepared to welcome its space twins, Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich, in Moscow with a triumphal celebration.

Russia Agrees to Help India Build Jet Fighter Planes

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Soviet Union has agreed to aid India in the manufacture of engines for the HF24 fighter plane, Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon told Parliament Friday.

He said production of the engines at Bangalore is scheduled to begin in 1963.

Menon gave no details of the agreement which was signed in Moscow recently.

This is separate from the proposed MIG21 deal for which an Indian team now is in Moscow.

Huge Moscow Throng Greet 'Space Twins'

Khrushchev Leads Welcome for Heroes Of Orbital Flight

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian space twins flew into Moscow today for a tumultuous heroes welcome led by Premier Khrushchev, as the Soviet Union hurled another satellite — presumably unmanned — into orbit.

Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich emerged from their plane at Vnukovo airport with space-minded timing exactly as scheduled at 2 p.m. Moscow time (6 a.m. EST). Khrushchev hugged and kissed them both and girls bedecked them with flowers.

The latest Soviet heroes exchanged embraces with top Soviet officials, members of their families and their Russian predecessors in space, Maj. Yuri Gagarin and Lt. Col. Gherman Titov.

Sharp Salutes

Nikolayev and Popovich first reported to Khrushchev, saluting him sharply and pledging that they are ready to carry out any further missions.

Then Popovich kissed and embraced his 7-year-old daughter, Natasha, took her by the hand as he and Nikolayev waved with the welcoming party to the huge crowd gathered to greet them.

Khrushchev led the astronauts and the Soviet officials on a march in front of the welcoming crowd. The Soviet premier was waving a bunch of flowers in acknowledgement of the cheers of the crowd.

Khrushchev suddenly took Natasha Popovich's hand and she relinquished her father's. The premier had to give her a little tug now and again to keep her on the right route.

The cosmonauts' plane landed just after Khrushchev had arrived in another plane from Sochi. The Soviet premier was untanned and apparently rested for his holiday in the Crimea on the Black Sea.

Political Tag Given To Kennedy's Trip

Western Journey May Be Harmful To Nixon, Aid to Democratic Party Congressional Hopefuls

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP) — President Kennedy's touches off 17,000 feet of dynamite charges today to break a big chunk of ground for a $511 million water project, on a trip from which the non-political tag quickly was stripped.

Here in the home state of Richard M. Nixon, Kennedy would like to do some dynamiting of the former vice president's aspirations to become governor of California.

The real activity along that line, as well as in behalf of Democrats running for Congress, will come later in the campaign. Kennedy aides are talking about an outright political trip to the West early in October.

Helping Brown

But Kennedy already was teaming up to some extent with Nixon's current political foe, Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, the Democrat who is governor now and wants to remain governor.

The two had a conference planned at Yosemite Park today before taking off for Los Banos and the groundbreaking ceremony for the San Luis project. The project will supply water to hundreds of thousands of acres of central California as well as to the Los Angeles-San Diego area.

Brown attended a Democratic powwow at Fresno Friday night and spent the night there.

Kennedy visited Yosemite for the first time and spent the night there, in one of the most magnificent valleys on earth.

White Leaders Plan Reprisals Against Boycotting Negroes

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Organized white resistance to integration is forming here with efforts to consolidate several segregationist groups.

About 20 white persons, including several businessmen, met Friday night and discussed organization plans aimed at economic reprisals against Negroes who boycott downtown merchants.

"The boycott is a two-edged blade," said a spokesman, Richard Taylor, "and we feel that our edge is the sharper."

For 10 months, integration leaders have urged Negroes to boycott white businesses and segregation employment practices and segregation policies.

Who Downed German Ace?

Pilots Recall Era of Von Richthofen Battles

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Who killed Baron Manfred von Richthofen, legendary ace of the German Imperial Air Force in World War I?

When is an ace not an ace? Bring together a group of fliers who once pitted their valor and skill against the Germans in aerial combat and those two controversial questions are bound to pop up.

Like most historical disputes, the answers are a matter of opinion.

Canadian Flyer

"No one will ever know for sure whether Richthofen was the victim of a young Canadian flier or whether he was brought down by ground fire," said Lt. Arthur Cunningham of New York City, who once flew a pursuit plane for the Lafayette Flying Corps.

Cunningham is one of the dwindling band of surviving Americans who fought for the French in 1914-18. A score of them are guests of honor at Battle Creek's first reunion air show today and Sunday.

Now a spry 67, Cunningham was just out of his teens when he joined the French Foreign Legion with the intention of eventually getting off the ground in one of the rickety wood-and-canvas planes of the Air Corps.

After America entered the war, Cunningham transferred to the famed 94th American "Hat in the Ring" Squadron, later commanded by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Machine Gun Burst

Like most American fliers, Cunningham favors the officially recognized claim that Capt. Roy Brown, a Canadian flying with the Royal Air Force, brought Richthofen down with a burst from his machine guns.

But even as Brown was firing on the tail of the German ace, four Australian machine gunners and one rifleman on the ground also were pouring hot lead at the red Fokker tri-plane.

It spun into the ground, and the career of the No. 1 ace of the war came to an abrupt end.

By the accepted standard, five kills made a flier an ace. Richthofen had 80 officially confirmed victories to his credit before he crashed.

Senate OK's Measure by 66-11 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a long countdown, the Senate has finally got the administration's communications satellite bill off the launching pad.

But it left a trail of scorched tempers that seemed certain to have an effect on other legislation in Congress' drive for adjournment.

The Senate passed the measure 66 to 11 Friday after having invoked its anti-filibuster rule for the first time in 35 years in order to get the bill through a barrier of bitter opposition.

Like House Bill

The measure is very much like, but not identical with, a bill passed by the House on May 3 by a 354-9 vote.

If the House — now taking an informal recess until Aug. 27—accepts the Senate version, the legislation will go directly to President Kennedy for his signature.

Should the House, however, insist that a compromise be worked out, the bill would have to come back to the Senate. This would give opponents a chance to mount a new filibuster against it.

The first space-age legislation of its kind, the bill cleared the Senate Friday after proposed amendments had been rejected in wholesale lots. All 11 votes against it were cast by Democrats.

Private Corporation

It provides for the creation of a private, government-regulated corporation to own and operate the U.S. segment of a global communications system using satellites as relay stations.

Kennedy put it on his "must" list, but a small band of Democratic senators fought the measure. They called it a gigantic giveaway of the taxpayers' investment in space research and said it would create a private monopoly dominated by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Most of these senators favored government ownership.

Passage was assured once the Senate voted 63 to 27 Tuesday to invoke an anti-filibuster rule that limited each senator's speaking time from then on to one hour.

Opponents protested to the end that they were being "gagged."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who was backed all the way by his Republican counterpart, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, maintained that the bill's foes had been treated fairly.

Italian Police Arrest Soustelle, Plan Deportation

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Jacques Soustelle, a former French cabinet officer and a figure in the abortive right wing movement to block Algerian independence, has been arrested by Italian police and ordered deported as an undesirable alien.

Police said Soustelle, traveling on a false passport, would be expelled to France, but would be taken to the frontier of his choice.

There was no immediate official reaction from the French government. Authorities in Paris said they were not formally seeking Soustelle, who took part in the 1958 Algerian military revolt that returned President Charles de Gaulle to power. Soustelle later became a bitter foe of De Gaulle, who contrary to the insurgents' expectations, pushed for Algerian independence.

Probe Nursing Home 'Chain' In Chicago

type of nursing home gently eases its client out. Relatives are told that a greater degree of nursing care and medical supervision are indicated. The mine-run place takes over.

Poor Staffs
Many nursing homes do not have staffs competent to follow courses of care and treatment prescribed by physicians. Some attempt it haphazardly.

State hospitals eventually get many of the unwanted senile dementia victims. But there are private hospitals which specialize in this type of patient. Many do an excellent job.

Yet, even in these places, it is depressing to see a deteriorating man or woman, tied to a chair with an elastic band, cathered against incontinence, gurgling semi-soft food at mealtimes because denture care is virtually impossible for them.

The restraint is necessary because, even with unreliable, swollen or arthritic joints, the patient tends to wander confusedly, and the risk of a fall and a quickly fatal fractured hip is great.

Inevitable Ills
The ills of age are inevitable. But they can be eased somewhat or aggravated extremely. How can the family be sure that grandma is as happy as she seemed when her face lit up for her daughter's monthly visit?

A physician's answer: "You can't know what befalls an old person in somebody else's establishment. The patient can't report, usually. The administrator always reassures the family."

"One rule might be—forget the chrome and pink plumbing. Size up the people who run the place—from the top down—and judge on that basis."

Mrs. Finkbine Has Abortion

Friends Say TV Performer Is in Good Condition

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Mrs. Sherri Finkbine underwent an abortion at the Caroline Hospital here today, a Swedish friend reported.

The friend said the Phoenix, Ariz. television performer was in the operating room for 45 minutes and the doctor described her condition as satisfactory.

Arizona Refused
Mrs. Finkbine had come to Stockholm for an abortion, fearing she might bear a deformed baby. Sweden's Royal Medical Board gave legal sanction to the operation Friday on grounds that Mrs. Finkbine's health otherwise might be endangered.

Mrs. Finkbine and her husband, Robert, came to Sweden Aug. 4 after an Arizona court refused to sanction an abortion. Mrs. Finkbine said she took thalidomide, a tranquilizer, during early pregnancy. Similar use has been blamed for the birth of several thousand deformed babies, mostly in Europe.

Sources said the convalescence is expected to extend about the same period as that following a normal childbirth and that the couple will be ready to start for home as soon as possible.

"I think we will go home by way of Paris," her husband told a friend.

This has been a trying time for my wife, and I am sure she needs some distraction.

Silvers Hurts Leg While Filming Scene

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Phil Silvers, the fast-talking Sgt. Bilko of television, injured his right leg Friday during a comedy chase on a movie location.

Production aides on "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," said Silvers' leg gave out as he and other stars ran through the chase scene in an alley in downtown Long Beach.

He was rushed to St. Mary's Hospital for x-rays, which revealed the leg was not broken.

Silvers injured the same leg during a desert scene a month ago and had indicated it still bothered him.

Nelson Backs State's Old Forest Crop Law

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson has come out in support of a revision of Wisconsin's 36-year old forest crop law, saying the changes will help preserve two and one-quarter million acres of forest for public use.

The revision was recommended by a 12-member committee named by the governor and headed by Jack J. Schumacher of Shawano, a member of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission.

The law was enacted in 1927 to encourage counties to set aside land for conservation purposes and to repay them in part for taxes lost if the land was privately owned.

of the big Missouri River Basin development and supplies water for irrigation, flood control, navigation, power and recreation.

At Pueblo, Colo., Kennedy circled the spot where a dam and reservoir will provide one of the key features of the new Frying Pan-Arkansas project.

The chief executive signed on Thursday the bill authorizing the $170 million project, to collect water from the snow-mantled western slope of the Rockies, swish it through a tunnel under the Continental Divide, and bring it to parched lands in southeastern Colorado.

At both stops, Kennedy delivered speeches. They had a theme that water resources development benefits the entire nation, that Kennedy took democratic hopes under his wing, yet displayed the required amount of bipartisanship by mentioning Republicans and by asking South Dakota's Republican Gov. Archie Gubhard to ride with him in a White House limousine.

Minding Your Business

By Cyrus Barrett, Jr.

'I Say Businesses Need Periodic Re-Evaluation: Co-Worker Takes Opposite View!'

DEAR CY:
Please settle an argument. My cohort feels systems or ways of doing things within a business should remain rigid and seldom changed, once they're tested and set in motion. I claim they should be re-evaluated at least once a year. Who's right?

DEAR TOM B.
American industry is shot through with costly procedures that have long outlived the purposes for which they were originally intended.

I agree with you. Tell your friend the "Golden Spike" story.

A year or so ago, a young cost accountant was walking through a large railroad repair shop. There, in an obscure corner, he found a blacksmith with forge, leather apron, and all... who was straightening railroad tie spikes.

It seems that after the rails were separated out on the line somewhere, the spikes were removed, and bent in the process. Then they were sent to this railroad repair shop, where they were straightened out, prior to being re-used. The cost accountant asked why they did it this way, and the blacksmith replied, "Cause the railroad has always done it this way."

Our young man of the figures computed the cost to send the ties to the spike removal point, cost of removing the spikes, cost of shipping them to this shop for straightening, cost of straightening, and cost of shipping them to the place they would next be used. The total came to the cost of a spike made of gold!

Look around. You probably have some "Golden Spikes" driven into your business.

Nason on Education

It's Possible for Student to Worry Himself Into Bad School Grades

BY LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Mental attitude is every bit as important as physical health when it comes to school. Many students actually do poor work chiefly because they are worried about it. Recently, I received this letter:

Dear Dr. Nason:
If I return to college I will be a sophomore on probation. I failed to make a C average by three grade points in each of the semesters of my freshman year.

Although my counselors tell me I have the ability to succeed, I am always tense about school.

How can I enter school this fall and she dislikes school. The counselor suggests that she be skipped to the eighth grade at a challenge.

R. B., Fresno, Calif.
Fill your mind with so many constructive plans that there will be no room for worry. Plan each course. Study ahead. Plan your reviews. Plan your exam so that you know exactly how you are going to think out the answers to the questions.

Dear Dr. Nason:
I know of a similar situation in which a girl with a very high IQ skipped the seventh grade where she was doing poor work. In the eighth grade she made all A's and became happy with school. It is worth a try.

Dear Dr. Nason:
My 8-year-old daughter gets very emotional about school. How can I help her to avoid worrying about it?

Mrs. W. M. Sidney, Ohio
First, furnish her with paper and crayons, clay, woodblocks, and writing materials. Then, encourage her to make things, write stories and draw pictures.

The energy she expends in creating will tend to keep her mind off whatever is worrying her about school. The activities also may help her to be more successful at school tasks.

Dear Dr. Nason:
At the present time I am in the service and want to prepare myself for a job when I retire five years from now. I will be 45. I was graduated from high school and have always worked in the clerical field. How can I best prepare for a civilian job?

P. M., Arlington, Va.
Keep studying. Learn more shorthand and typing to retain your proficiency in these skills. Study English to increase your vocabulary. This continued learning will not only help you adjust to a new job, it may even help you get one.

Dear Dr. Nason:
Our daughter is a mid-year student and has completed half of the seventh grade. Although she is young for her grade, she is large for her age and I am told by the counselor that she has one of the highest IQ's ever to attend the school.

In spite of this her seventh grade work was of poor quality.

Your Problems

Woman Considers Marrying Lonely Widower of Sister

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister died two months ago in childbirth. It was her first child and her husband is filled with grief. He turned the baby over to me to raise and I intend to bring her up as if she were my own.

I am 35 years of age and have never married. The baby's father, Ann Landers, is a fine man and I know he is terribly lonely. We have had some long talks and without coming right out and asking, I'm pretty sure he would like to marry me. I would accept his proposal in a minute, but I'm afraid of what people might say.

Under the circumstances I'm sure my sister would approve. It would be wonderful for the baby, too, to grow up with her own father.

Please give me your thinking on this very important matter. I am going to take your advice.—Louisville Woman

Dear Woman: A four or five month courtship period will tell you what you want to know. Never mind what anyone else says or thinks. If you two get along well together and wish to marry, go ahead.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 18, graduated from high school last June and went steady with Steve for three straight years. I know what you think of going steady and you are right, but I was too dumb to see it. Steve was the most attractive boy in school and I was plain-looking. I was scared to relax my grip for fear some girl would get him away.

After graduation he began to cool off. He seemed to go out of his way to start an argument. Finally he blew up and said, "Find someone else to haul you around. I feel like you've got me in chains!" That was the way our three-year romance ended.

Now I'm marooned. My telephone never rings, except for a few girl friends who want to know if I've killed myself yet. How can I get back into circulation? Where do I start? Please help me before I dry up and blow away.—Fading Fast

Dear Fading: A girl who has worn an "Occupied" sign around her neck for three years can hardly expect the fellows to beat her door down the minute she is available.

Be patient. The word will get around. And while you're waiting, it may be a good idea to have a little party and invite yourself a date.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother and father were divorced seven years ago. I'm 14 years old now and I remember my father well although I've seen him only once in all that time, and that was six years ago. He was a very good-looking man. My mother says that was the main part of the problem.

Lately my dad has been on my mind a lot. I dream of him often. In my dreams he is always sweet to me, and not disagreeable.

rect play if South needed all 13 tricks but it was not the correct play at four spades. When the queen of Spades failed to drop, South went after the diamonds, hoping to discard a club or two on dummy's long suit. It was a good idea but it didn't work. West ruffed the second diamond and led a low club to the ace. The defenders got two more club tricks to defeat the contract.

Sure Thing
South's play was very reasonable, but the finesse in spades would have given him a sure thing. After winning the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, declarer should finesse the jack of spades at once.

If the finesse wins, South can proceed with safety. Even though the finesse loses in this case, the defenders can take only two club tricks. South can then regain the lead, draw the rest of the trumps, and discard his remaining losers on dummy's diamonds.

The advantage of taking the finesse in spades is that South can afford to lose the first round of trumps but cannot afford to lose a later trump. The best play for the hand as a whole is more important than the best play for the trump suit alone.

Answer: Bid one spade. The hand is a trifle light in high cards for an opening bid of one, but the playing strength makes up for it. It is far too good for a shut-out bid.

Churchill Receives Gift-Drinking Doll
LONDON (AP)—A clockwork drinking doll, the gift of a woman admirer, was sent up to Sir Winston Churchill in his hospital room Friday. The doll was dressed like a bartender and, on being wound up, poured a glass of wine and drank it.

"I thought it might amuse Sir Winston so I sent it up to his room," said Mrs. Rosetta Fisher, owner of a nearby tavern. Sir Winston, his broken thigh on the mend, is expected out of the hospital some time next week.

State Acquires Public Access At Rock Island Conservation Men Anticipate Buying Tract in 1963

STURGEON BAY — The Wisconsin Conservation Commission today approved a contract with the private owners of Rock Island off the tip of the Door County Peninsula that will assure public access and use of the 900-acre tract in anticipation of state purchase in 1963.

The commission approved the plan of the state parks division which hopes to develop the island for public camping and other recreational use and to provide facilities for boat anchorage to meet the needs of increasing boat traffic on Lake Michigan and Green Bay.

The commission at its monthly meeting in the Door County courthouse also approved the purchase for the state of more than 5,000 acres of recreational lands scattered throughout Wisconsin at a cost of nearly $700,000.

It was the most comprehensive list of land and water frontage acquisitions and easements in the history of the state conservation department, and reflected the operation of the expanded recreational purchase program under the outdoors recreation act adopted by the legislature a year ago.

The commission also approved a compromise agreement for the development of a conservation area on Lake Mendota on the outskirts of the capitol city of Madison where a controversy has arisen because of a conflict with a real estate development company. The agreement under which the company made substantial concessions to the state is subject to the approval of the City of Madison and the state public service commission.

The state has an option to buy Rock Island during the next two years at price of $175,000. The commission authorized the payment of $5,000 for the temporary public use easement.

The purchase will be from the estate of the late C. H. Thordarson, a wealthy businessman who developed the island at considerable cost during his lifetime and built a costly boat shelter among other facilities.

Chairman Guido Rahr of the commission indicated that he would oppose the purchase proposal, arguing that there are many acquisition opportunities that are of more immediate public interest and value. It will be "a long, long time" before the island has any significant value to large numbers of people, he said, because it does not have a natural harbor.

The POWER of FAITH

Abraham Vereide, a Norwegian immigrant who grew up in the mountains of Montana, felt early in his life the power of faith. At the age of 20 he worked as a missionary. Later, as an officer with Goodwill Industries, he came in contact with business and political leaders and discovered a need for a more intense religious feeling among them.

Episcopal Bishop Asks For Prayers for Council

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS mon fishing in Washington State. The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, has appealed to Episcopalians to pray for the success of the second Vatican Council.

In a special statement, the bishop asked his constituents to pray regularly and often for the Roman Catholic session which begins in Rome Oct. 11. Many Protestant denominations will send official observers to the Vatican Council.

Dr. Leslie Weatherhead, a former president of the Methodist Conference, says in London that he would like to censor the Bible with a blue pencil. In an interview, he said his main target would be the "completely outmoded" Old Testament. The Rev. Dr. Weatherhead said he would cut out "a lot of bloody massacres and a lot of smutty little pieces that choir boys read on the quiet."

Carl Sandburg, introduced as a man who "more than any American poet has caught the sound of America," read selections from his half-century of writings in a benefit performance at Flat Rock, N.C. After an hour of recitation, the 84-year-old bard propped his knee on a chair, plucked his guitar and tried to sing some of the ballads for which he is famous. But he couldn't get started. His throat, he said, was not up to it.

Attorney Gen. Robert Kennedy will be in his family, tired but pleased after four days of roughing it and salmon fishing in Washington State. arrived in Seattle. They had been the guests of Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court at his beach home on the Olympic Peninsula.

No Further Trouble Actress Judy Garland, returning to Hollywood from London, said she expected no further trouble from her estranged husband, Sid Luft, over custody of their two children. She plans to vacation with the youngsters, Lorna, 9, and Joey, 7, at her home on Lake Tahoe in the northern California mountains, doing "nothing—no work—just rest."

Physical Exams Planned Tuesday For KHS Athletes KAUKAUNA — Kaukauna High School boys planning to participate in any of the athletic programs during the school year will receive dental and physical examinations beginning at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Park School gym. WIAA cards are now available at the high school office and athletes are to pick them up before appearing for physicals, according to Walter Schmidt, principal. The school office is open weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Boys planning to participate in junior varsity, varsity or freshman football, baseball, basketball, track or cross country are to have the examinations. Those not reporting Tuesday will be required to have examinations at a later date at their own expense.

Keeping the Birch Fires Burning

The labored effort of the Madison Capital Times and others representing the far-out exponents of contemporary liberalism to tar Philip Kuehn, the Republican candidate for the governorship, with the zealotry and absurdity of the Birch society occasion some reminiscence among persons of a reflective turn of mind.

Mr. Kuehn has said again, although it should not have needed repeating, that he is not a member of the society, that he opposes most of its principles and proposals, and that he is wholly out of sympathy with the radically reactionary beliefs of its autocratic founder and leader, Robert Welch.

Yet the strident voices of Mr. Evjue and his lieutenants at Madison continue to denounce him as a Birchite and to call upon all men of good will in the Wisconsin electorate to renounce him on election day.

These are the same persons who beat their breasts so angrily during the public lifetime of the late Sen. McCarthy for his alleged "smears" of innocent people in the context of left-wing activities.

What was their favorite slogan of denunciation?

Was it "guilt by association"?

Mr. Kuehn was brought into this irrelevant side show of the Wisconsin campaign for control of the state government only because a misguided young man in Madison, apparently impressed with his own importance and thirsty for personal notoriety, declared in a public statement that he is a member and chapter leader of the Welch persuasion and that he intends to vote for Kuehn in the Republican primary.

If anyone is surprised at the double standard of political morality implied in the use made of this childish statement, he may wonder where to credit it. We were inclined to credit it all to the extremists who are to be found on the fringes of the Democratic party. But apparently Patrick J. Lucey, Democratic State Chairman, accepts this activity as good politics.

At a school for candidates sponsored by the Democratic party Lucey was asked what to do "if Americanism charges come up?" The reference was to an area in which there were some members of the Birch group. At first Lucey advised the candidate to ignore it, but upon second thought he said, "check to see if the Birchers want to embrace your opponent, and if they do, use that information to the fullest."

Those at the school were told that taxes and spending will probably be the important issues of the fall campaign, but obviously the Democratic leaders are in no hurry to get to the issues if they can keep the pot boiling with fires of Birch wood. But in the meantime the voters are not getting much useful information.

A Friendly Gesture

The Belgian Overseas Research Foundation, IBERSOM, has made a two-year grant of $46,000 to Stanford University to be used by the Stanford Food Research Institute for studies of tropical Latin America. Karl Brandt, Institute director, will supervise the studies which will be concerned with economic and social problems of food, agriculture and rural development.

The friendly relationship between Belgium and Stanford, indicated by this grant, is of long standing. The carillon at the top of Stanford's tallest building, the Hoover Tower, is a gift of the Belgian-American Educational Foundation in recognition of the World War I food relief work of Herbert Hoover. Mr. Hoover, who is the most distinguished alumnus of Stanford, established the Food Research Institute in 1921.

Computers and the Law

Applications of computers to the legal profession are still in the experimental phase, but legal authorities believe that electronic brains eventually will relieve lawyers of considerable tedious research on statutes and precedents, a chore that now occupies as much as one-third of a lawyer's working hours.

And legal experts say that computers will be able to perform routine research more accurately than lawyers can and in a fraction of the time.

It's anticipated the machines would be run by bar associations or service bureaus. At present, the American Bar Foundation is working with a computer manufacturer to gather on magnetic tape all newly enacted state legislation. The tape will be fed into computers which will turn out an index of the new laws.

A Study of Lung Cancer

Some time this fall a commission of 12 experts will begin a study of the impact of smoking and air pollution upon health.

The study, which was approved by President Kennedy upon the advice of the Public Health Service, was originally intended to inquire into the impact of smoking upon health. But it was broadened to include health hazards from air pollution, automobile exhaust fumes and other factors.

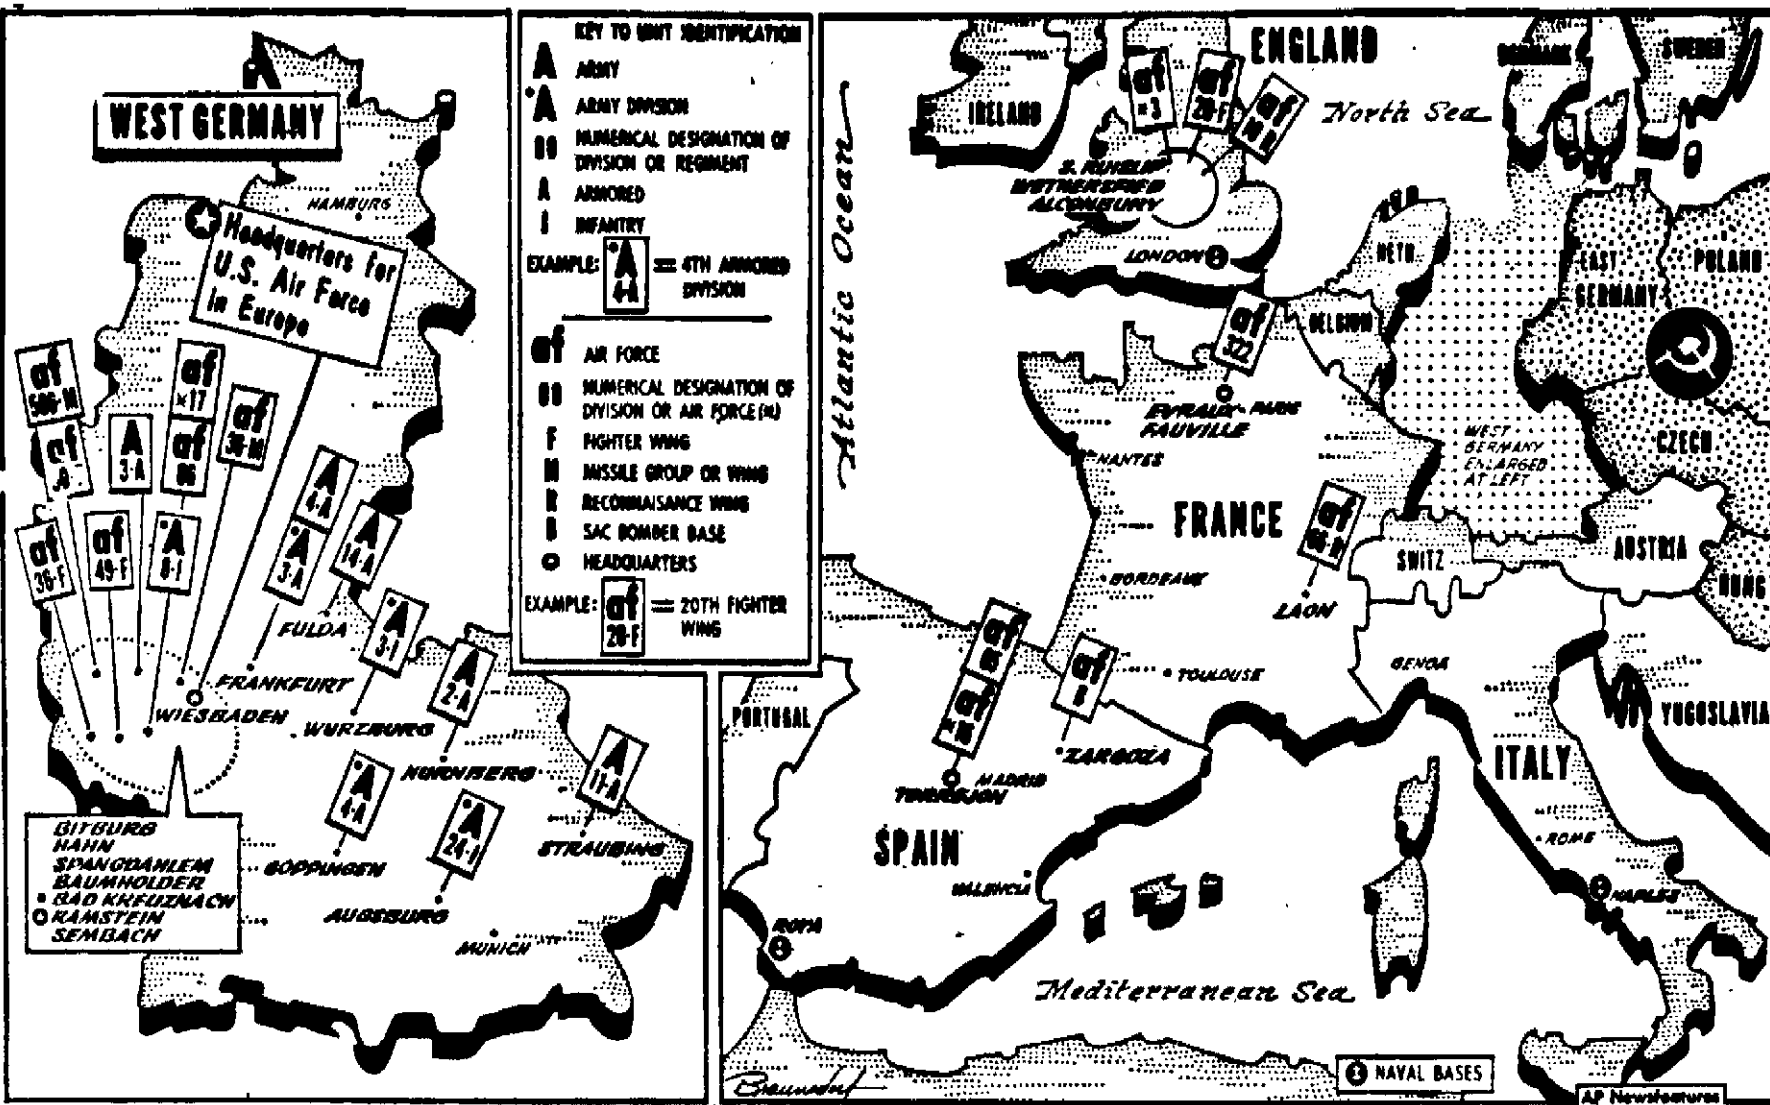

The panel will be chosen from a list of 150 scientists prepared by the Public Health Service and representatives of federal agencies, medical groups and the tobacco industry. Dr. Luther L. Terry, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, will name the members of the panel and he or someone designated by him will be chairman of the study group. It is pointed out that Dr. Terry will have the delicate task of naming a panel group which will be satisfactory to both the medical associations and the tobacco industry.

Since tobacco is an $8 billion annual industry in the United States the final findings of such a commission might affect the nation's economy in a wide range of situations from the tobacco fields to the stock market. Nevertheless, the study has been ordered because of the contention of the Public Health Service that there is evidence that smoking is a cause of lung cancer. This position has been supported by many important figures in the field of medicine. However, the huge tobacco industry has set up its own research group. This group has raised at least some doubt of the validity of some of the charges that have been freely made against cigarettes. The people working in the cigarette division of the American Tobacco Company have been studied for a number of years as to their smoking habits and the effects upon them. A report recently published by Jacob Cohen, Ph.D., New York University and Robert K. Heimann, Ph.D., both of the Department of Research and Development of the American Tobacco Company, declares that this group of tobacco company workers not only had a markedly higher percentage of regular cigarette smokers than the general U. S. population but also that the percentage of these factory employees consuming upwards of 20 cigarettes daily was twice that of the general population. Nevertheless, they claim that "the age, color, and sex-adjusted mortality rate for all causes, for cancer, for respiratory cancer, and for cardiovascular disease in this population, are average or lower than average when compared with the general population rates."

The Tobacco Institute, Inc., which is of course financed by the tobacco industry, quotes the U. S. Public Health Service to show that there are wide differences in lung cancer death rates between cities of comparable size and in the same geographical area. New Orleans, it is said, has a lung cancer death rate twice as high as the U. S. average. Charleston, S. C., was 70 per cent higher, while New York City, Buffalo, Baltimore and Mobile were 60 per cent higher. For white women, Shreveport, La., showed 90 per cent more lung cancer than the national average, and Charleston, S. C., 70 per cent more. Lima, Ohio, and Green Bay, Wis., were both 60 per cent under the national average. For females tabulated, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Ogden, Utah, were both 80 per cent below the average.

These statistics indicate that there may well be many factors other than cigarette smoking which cause lung cancer. The study by an impartial group of scientists should be a welcome contribution.

No Reduction Contemplated
U. S. Has 335,000 Military Men in Europe

BY ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 335,000 American soldiers, airmen and sailors are now helping guard Free Europe against Red attack, even after withdrawal of reserve air units sent there a year ago in the Berlin crisis buildup.

Only a minor reduction, none of it in actual manpower, is in immediate prospect.

However, Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNamara is talking of plans to trim down some of the non-combat strength as part of the overall effort to reduce expenditure of gold dollars abroad.

The great bulk of the U.S. manpower is deployed in West Germany and France, where most of the Army's 250,000 men are assigned.

The Air Force has units based in West Germany, France, Spain and small elements elsewhere—a total of about 75,000 men. Under the buildup, 11,500 members of air guard and reserve units were mobilized and sent to Europe, but began heading home by mid-July. The Army called up thousands, but sent no reserve units overseas.

Naval Strength

The Navy has about 20,000 men assigned to shore stations in Europe or on ships which "home port" in European harbors.

However, tens of thousands of other U.S. fighting men are afloat in U.S. Navy ships operating in neighboring waters or are assigned to crews of Strategic Air Command (SAC) bombers which fly in and out of Europe.

Army combat power is centered in five divisions, four regiments, three battle groups and an armored group, all with stations in West Germany or, in the case of three battle groups, in West Berlin.

Headquarters for the 3rd Armored Division is at Frankfurt; 3rd Infantry Division at Würzburg; 4th Armored Division at Goppingen; 8th Infantry Division at Bad Kreuznach and the 24th Infantry Division at Augsburg.

The 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment is headquartered at Nurnberg; the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment at Straubing; the 14th at Fulda and the 3rd at Baumholder. The 4th Armored Group bases at Frankfurt.

One of the three battle groups in Berlin is from a division in West Germany, the other two are separate units.

Air Force Units

The Air Force has a score of units, big and small, based in four countries, including:

Germany—36th Tactical Fighter Wing at Bitburg; 50th Tactical Fighter Wing and 58th Tactical Missile Group at Hahn; headquarters of 86th Air Division (defense) and of the 17th Air Force at Ramstein; 49th Tactical Fighter Wing at Spangdahlem; headquarters for the U.S. Air Force in Europe at Wiesbaden; 30th Tactical Missile Wing at Sembach. An air force tactical missile is the Mace bombardment weapon, with a range of about 1,200 miles.

France—366th Tactical Wing at Chaumont; headquarters of the 32nd Air Division (transport) at Evreux-Fauville Air Base; 66th Tactical Reconnaissance at Lecon.

England—20th Tactical Fighter Wing at Wethersfield; 10th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing at Alconbury; headquarters of 3rd Air Force at South Ruislip. In addition, several other bases are used by SAC bomber units or rotational assignments.

Spain — headquarters of the 16th Air Force (SAC) and headquarters of the 68th Air Division (defense) are at Torrejon. Two other U.S.-built bases at Moron and Zaragoza are for use of SAC bombers.

The Navy's shore-based personnel are primarily at London, Naples, Holy Loch in Scotland (the Polaris submarine base) and at Rota, Spain.

Under the Capitol Dome

Request of 15 Years Ago Remains Unfilled

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — More than 15 years ago this reporter and a colleague resolved to inspect in person the condition of some of the state welfare institutions which had for many years before that sent increasingly desperate pleas to the capitol for money to replace some of their architect buildings and equipment.

One of the strongest memories of that tour was the night in the office of one of the superintendents of one of the state mental hospitals in which he spent a couple of hours telling his frustrations and his hopes about the work in which he was engaged — the restoration of mentally ill persons to useful and happy and wholesome lives.

The other day this reporter sat at a meeting of the state board of public welfare and was suddenly reminded of this doctor's earnest talk.

For the director of the welfare administration was telling his board of trustees that once more he had been turned down on a request for a building appropriation that the hospital superintendent a decade ago solemnly assured his visitors was absolutely imperative to make of his institution a first class treatment center for the people of Wisconsin.

HUGE PROBLEM

The incident illustrates the immensity of the institution capital financing problem which confronts the state, and which is only vaguely understood thus far by public opinion or the legislature which ultimately must resolve it.

The central hospital building which my friend the institution superintendent spoke about so earnestly long ago was built in the 19th century. It is now three-quarters of a century old, at least. Like some other state structures that remain in use out of harsh necessity, they would be promptly condemned as unfit and unsafe if they were used by a private corporation, or by a municipal government, by inspectors of the very state government which somehow tolerates their continued use for its own purposes.

All of this is not to say that the state has not spent heavily during the last decade and a half. It has. But it has spent for the most part to accommodate the pressure of increased populations — more prisoners, more juvenile delinquents, more mental patients, more college students, and all of the others whose service demands the state acknowledges as a responsibility.

It has not been able to do much about repairing obsolescence. In fact, even the huge sums that have been spent during each recent year, dispersed as they have been over a huge state-wide network of institutions, are scarcely visible to the naked eye in spite of their heavy burdens upon state budgets and the legislators worried about the reactions of their tax-wearied constituents in their home districts.

THE OUTLOOK

The state department of administration recently recommended to the building commission serious consideration of about $79,000,000 worth of new construction for various state institutions during the next two years. The total was about half of what those institutions had asked. They were keenly disappointed by the recommendation for the cutback.

Yet the realistic fact is that there is only a slight chance for the actual granting of even the harshly reduced sums specified by the reviewing agency. Or to put it another way, that reduced budget is far and away the highest that has been seriously proposed during the last decade when there has been more in the way of capital fund authorizations than ever before in state history.

All of this is aside from the prospect for increases in the state's operating budget, which will continue despite what the politicians are hopefully generalizing in their current campaigns. The question of state finance remains the most challenging one in state politics today.

Warning to Draft Dodgers

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Aug. 14, 1962.

Parties too cowardly and too selfish to be willing to aid in defending the Government, and who are contemplating a trip to Canada, might better use the money to hire a substitute.

A draft is not so easily dodged. They have their names drawn with the rest, and if it comes to them to serve and they are not on hand when notice is given, they will be entered as deserters. If they ever return to the United States, they will be liable by military law to punishment as deserters.

And we can assure them that their chances of being caught are good. If they ever set foot in this country again, their names will be published in every loyal paper. Lists will be made and kept all along the frontier in the hands of loyal men, and the cowardly deserter, wherever he reappears, will be sure to be detected, and if detected, to be punished.—Reprinted from the Chicago Journal.

Raymond Stars in Relief as Braves Turn Back Giants

Largest Stadium Crowd Since Opening Day Witnesses Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A crowd of 20,781, the largest County Stadium turnout since opening day, welcomed the Milwaukee Braves to home from a road trip Friday night. The Braves combined "seeing-eye" hits which found holes in the infield, a costly error and a two-run homer by Lee Maye for two runs in the fourth, a pair in the fifth and a couple in the seventh, to beat the San Francisco Giants 6-4.

Although out by an 11-8 margin, the Braves struggled to a 6-4 victory over the San Francisco Giants as rookie reliever Claude Raymond turned in another outstanding performance.

Raymond took over for starter Bob Shaw with runners on first and second and only one out in the eighth, struck out the next batter and then hurled a scoreless ninth in preserving starter Maye's homer, his eight of the campaign, was a towering shot into the right field bleachers which brought across the decisive runs. It came after Eddie Mathews drew his third walk of the game and was forced at second on a Hank Aaron grounder.

Two Marks Fall In National AAU Meet

Three Champions are Dethroned Including Donna De Varona

CHICAGO (AP)—Two world records and one meet record were surpassed Friday as three champions, including brilliant Donna De Varona, were dethroned in the National AAU Women's Outdoor Swimming Championships.

In the Men's International Invitational, Gerhard Heltz of West Germany cracked the listed work mark in the 400-meter individual medley, Don Schollander of Santa Clara, Calif., equalled the world mark in the 200-meter freestyle and, in a special race, Murray Rose blitzed the 400-meter freestyle world mark with a time of 4:13.4.

In Friday's biggest surprise, Ginie Duencel, West Orange, N.J., bettered the listed world record of 2:33.2 in the 200-meter backstroke. The 15-year-old high school sophomore clipped through the Portage Park Pool in 2:32.1.

Second was Miss De Varona in 2:33.1. The 1961 list, Nina Harmer of Philadelphia, was fifth.

Shatters Mark of 5:34

Sharon Finneran, Los Angeles, won the 400-meter individual medley in 5:25.4, shattering Miss De Varona's world mark of 5:34.

West Germany's Wilfrud Uerselman, 20, equaled the meet record of 2:53.3 in the 200-meter breaststroke. The mark was established by Ann Warner, Santa Clara Swim Club, in 1960.

Sixteen-year-old Robyn Johnson, Arlington, Va., nabbed her second straight 100-meter freestyle AAU title despite a surging finish by 13-year-old Sharon Stouder of Rosemead, Calif.

Miss Johnson was timed in at 1:02.2 and Miss Stouder in 1:02.3.

Barbara McAllister of Phoenix captured the 3-meter springboard diving title with 416.45 points.

Hetz was timed in 4:54.9 in the 400-meter medley and bettered the world mark of 4:55.6 by Ted Stickle of Indianapolis. Stickle, however, has a pending world mark of 4:51.0.

Schollander, a 16-year-old Santa Clara youth, equalled the world mark of 2:00.4 in the 200-meter freestyle for the second time in a week.

Rose, the 23-year-old, two-time Olympic champion, put in his bid for another world mark in a special race with Alan Somers, Indianapolis. Rose finished well ahead of Somers who had a creditable 4:23.5. The listed world mark is 4:13.9 by Jon Konrad.

Campbell Leads St. Paul Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A former Purdue University star led the way today into the third round of the $30,000 St. Paul Open Golf Tournament.

Joe Campbell of Pendleton, Ind., added a 67 Friday to his first day round of 66, and took a one stroke lead over Dave Ragan, Johnny Pott and Pete Cooper.

It took a five-over-par 149 or better to make the cutoff point for the 70 low and ties who played in today's third round.

Two-a-day practice sessions will start Wednesday. Fitzpatrick said.

Oshkosh Legion Edges Clints for Title, 7-6

OSHKOSH — Greg Schumacher scored from second base on a two-out infield hit in the 11th inning to give Oshkosh a 7-6 win over Clintonville Friday night for the Fox River Valley Legion baseball league championship.

The run ended a 4-hour and 5-minute marathon which saw 25 walks, 24 strikeouts and 31 men left on base by the two teams.

Oshkosh had won the league's Southern Division title with a 13-1 record while Clintonville was the Central Division champ with a 12-2 mark.

The game winning hit was a high bouncer behind the pitcher's mound by Roger Beck. The ball took a sudden hop toward right field as Pete Smith attempted to make the play and Schumacher scored before anyone could run down the ball.

Appropriate hit

The hit was appropriate for the events that took place in the first 10 innings.

30,000 to See Packer, Card Tilt Tonight

Etcheverry Will Match Passing Skill With Starr

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A wide open game, with Sam Etcheverry, a former Canadian and when he came to bat with against Bart Starr, is expected tonight when the St. Louis Cardinals meet the Green Bay Packers in a National Football League exhibition game here.

A crowd of 30,000 or more is expected to see Etcheverry, who joined the NFL last year after considerable success in the Canadian circuit, in action with the Cardinals.

Etcheverry will start with former Southeastern conference stars Joe Childress and Mel Hammack in the backfield and Bobby Joe Conrad on the flank. Sonny Randle will be split end and Taz Anderson the tight end. Starr probably will work with Paul Hornung and Boyd Dowler at the halfback posts and Jim Taylor at fullback most of the time.

Game time is 8 p.m. It will be carried on radio to Wisconsin stations.

Griffith to Meet Moyer In TV Fight

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Welterweight Champion Emile Griffith of New York, a man who would like to double his title holdings, will meet middleweight contender Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., tonight in a 10-round bout with nothing at stake but prestige.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

Both scrappers will come in over the 147-pound welter limit to avoid any risk of the Griffith crown. The referee and two judges will score the bout under the 10-point-must system.

The two met twice in 1960 and broke even — before Griffith became king of the welters. Now he hopes to use Moyer, rated with the division's top half dozen, as a launching pad toward a shot at the middleweight title.

The Dubuque Dodgers' Lou Alcaez beats the throw to the plate in the third inning of Friday night's game against the Fox Cities Foxes at Goodland Field. The catcher is Cal Ripken. Alcaez scored from second on a single to left field by Ed Marson. The Dodgers won, 6-4. (Post-Crescent Photo)

That National League numbers game today poses something like this: The Dodgers got 2 for 1, Tommy Davis got 3 for 4 and Maury Wills got 2 for 2.

The result is that the Los Angeles Dodgers have increased their lead to 3 1/2 games over struggling San Francisco while on-toughing Cincinnati slipped back a notch to 6 1/2 games.

Tommy Davis and Wills were among the key figures Friday night as the Dodgers cooled off to within six percentage points of first place in the Midwest League Friday night with a 2-1 triumph over the Clinton C-Sox.

Dubuque's Dodgers Defeat Foxes, 6-4

FC Retains ML Lead by Slim Margin

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Fox Cities' pitching and defense — which have been the club's strong suits in the second-round march to the head of the Midwest League — proved inadequate in the early innings Friday night, and the Foxes dropped a 6-4 decision to Dubuque's Dodgers.

The usually sharp-fielding Foxes committed five errors, two of them run-allowing misplays, to give the margin of victory at Goodland Field. Al Riffe, who had been a large success in his previous home-game appearances, ran into an off-night and departed after 2 and 1-3 innings of 4-run (three earned), 5-hit baseball.

Unbeaten reliever Dave Pickle gave up another pair in the fifth only one of which was earned, before sailing through four scoreless frames of artistic pitching.

Despite the loss, the Foxes retain the lead by the skinny margin of six percentage points over Quad Cities, which replaced Waterloo in second place.

Tonight, the Foxes meet the Dodgers again on "Union Night." The Foxes trail the transplanted Keokuk entry, six wins to four, in the season series.

Sunday, the Foxes meet Burlington in a day-night doubleheader. The afternoon game, starting at 2:30 p.m., will feature a skydiving exhibition. The second "Union Night" will be observed during the 8 p.m. game.

Engbers Homers

Last night, the Foxes tried vainly to compensate for their fielding lapses with long-ball hitting. The Foxes, who ordinarily do well with a singles attack, hit a home run (Don Engbers) and two triples (Bob Lewandowski and Rex Peters) off Steve Anderson in a bid to erase their game-long deficit.

Dubuque scored in the first inning and never trailed. Tony Turek drew a 2-out walk, and Lou Alcaez drove him in with a ringing double to left center.

The Dodgers made it 3-0 in the second. Ed Marson walked with

LC-K, Kaukauna Open Playoff In Valley Circuit

Bob Schmidt, Leigh Wachel Get Starting Assignments on Sunday

LITTLE CHUTE — Two of the oldest rivals in the Fox River Valley Baseball League will square off Sunday in the first of a 3-game series that will decide the league championship.

Little Chute - Kimberly, first round champion, and Kaukauna, winner of the second half, clash at 2 p.m. at American Legion park here.

Kaukauna must be tagged as the "Cinderella" team of the league. After a dismal first half which saw the Klubbers win only two games and drop five, manager Marv Miller's charges roared back in the second half, winning six games out of seven to earn a playoff berth.

LC-K, annually a strong contender in the circuit, swept through the first round with a 7-0 record and posted a 5-2 mark in the second round.

Slight Favorite

The Papermakers should rate as slight favorites to win the championship but the two times the teams have met this season give little to indicate the stronger club. Each team has defeated the other.

When Kaukauna was stumbling around in the first half of play, LC-K thumped the Klubbers, 18-3, behind the 3-hit pitching of Roy Theil. In the second round, Kaukauna came back behind the hurling of Leigh Wachel and posted a 3-2 victory in a night game.

Manager Rog Vander Wist of the Papermakers has selected Bob Schmidt to open on the mound against the Klubbers. Schmidt posted an overall record of 3-2 in both halves of league play. He was the loser in the 3-2 game.

Wachel will start for Kaukauna. He has been one of the chief reasons for the Klubbers' fine second half showing as he has recorded five of the teams six victories and suffered only one setback.

The rest of the starting lineup for the Papermakers will include Hank Peerenboom, catching; Gene Peerenboom, first base; Ron Weigman, second; Tom Vanderpas, third and Dick Mulry, short stop. In the outfield will be Vander Wist, Floyd Hammen and either Phil Williams or Tom Peerenboom.

Kaukauna will have Jim Steger behind the plate, Gary Vanevenhoven or Fran Gerow at first base, Bruce Vanevenhoven, second; Karl Frank, shortstop; Jack Coenen at third and outfielders Carl Bowers, Duane Pahl, Ed Vanden Heuvel or Jerry DeBruin.

Davey Moore Wins on KO

Appears Ready To Defend Title Against Ramos

HELSENKI (AP)—World Featherweight Champion Davey Moore appeared today to be ready to knuckle down to a National Boxing Association edict and fight Sugar Ramos of Cuba.

"We're thinking of giving Ramos a shot at the title in October in Los Angeles," said Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum.

Moore, who has defended his title successfully five times in the three years he has owned it, is in the NBA's doghouse for refusing to meet Ramos, the No. 1 contender for the title.

Friday night, Moore demolished Olli Maeki of Finland in 2:35 of the second round of a scheduled 15-round title bout. It was the mound against the Klubbers, first world championship bout ever held in Scandinavia.

The champ probably could have ended it even sooner. Maeki, who fought 250 bouts as an amateur, but has been in the ring only 10 times as a pro, went down three times in the second round before referee Barney Ross stopped it.

"He was right in stopping it when he did," said Moore of Maeki's action.

Yankee Lead Cut As Angels Sweep Pair From Senators

Kansas City Tips New York; Twins Split With Red Sox

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those refuse-to-fold Los Angeles Angels have found a new way to win a ball game: Get the right man in the wrong spot in the batting order.

That's what happened Friday night as the second-place Angels swept a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 4-3 in 10 innings and 3-2, moving up on the front-running New York Yankees and keeping their American League pennant chances very much alive.

Here's how the Angels won the opener:

In the ninth inning, the Angels substituted outfielder Leon Wagner and pitcher Tom Morgan at the same time. The Angels wanted Wagner to hit seventh in the order to give him an at-bat in the last of the ninth, with Morgan hitting in the ninth spot, and so to fool the umpires.

Plate Umpire Cal Drummond ruled the Angels' batting order out of order.

Wagner didn't hit in the ninth. He did in the 10th—and drilled his first homer since July 29, a 400-foot shot that gave the Angels the ball game. A home run by Lee Thomas got the job done in the nightcap.

Within 4 Games

The twin triumphs pulled the Angels within four games of the Yankees, who were beaten 7-2 at Kansas City by the six-hit pitching of Bill Fischer. Third-place Minnesota moved within six games of the top, beating Boston 7-3 in the opener of a twin bill before the Red Sox won 9-4.

Elsewhere in the AL, Detroit's Jim Bunning shut out the Chicago White Sox 2-0 on three singles, and Baltimore got a five-hit pitching job from Milt Pappas to whip Cleveland 5-2.

Thomas' eighth inning homer gave the Angels a 3-3 tie in the opener before the controversy over Wagner's entry into the game caused a loud and long argument. His 29th homer quieted things.

Wagner went 2-for-4 in the nightcap, but the big gun this time was Thomas, who homered for the deciding run in the third inning off Ed Hobaugh. Don Lee received credit for the Angels' 70th victory of the season—matching their entire 1961 total.

Fischer, a 32-year-old retiree who specializes in slow stuff, was tagged for a Mickey Mantle homer and two runs in the first inning, then shut out the Yankees on four hits the rest of the way. The A's forged ahead to stay in the sixth against Jim Bouton with three runs on a homer by Bobby Del Greco, a walk, and singles by Ed Charles and Jerry Lumpe. A four-run eighth inning uprising put it out of reach.

Home Run Battle

The Twins-Red Sox games were home run battles with the two clubs combining for 11. Zoilo Versalles, Lenny Green, Earl Battey and winning pitcher Jack Kralick connected for the Twins in the opener. Lu Clinton, who hit one in the first game, homered for the Red Sox in the second as did Gary Geiger, Ed Bressoud and winner Earl Wilson.

While Bunning was checking the White Sox, Rocky Colavito provided the punch for the Tigers. Colavito came up in the seventh following a double by Don Buddin and a walk to Al Kaline and doubled both home with the game's lone runs.

Charley Lau drove in three runs for the Orioles with a homer and bases-loaded single. Pappas was tagged for consecutive homers by John Romano and Woody Held in the sixth, but that was it for the Indians.

Baltimore Colts
Ask Waivers on Veteran Joe Perry

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—The Baltimore Colts asked for waivers on veteran fullback Joe Perry Friday.

Perry, a veteran of 13 seasons in the National Football League, suffered torn ligaments in Baltimore's 34-14 victory over the Redskins at Washington Thursday night.

The fullback came to Baltimore from the San Francisco 49ers in a trade last season.

Perry holds two league records. His 1,619 rushing attempts and 7,921 yards gained rushing are all-time league marks.

The 35-year-old Compton College alumnus was Baltimore's starting fullback last year, and gained 100 yards or more in each of three regular games.

He gained a total of 675 yards in 1961, a 4.0-yard average per attempt, and caught 34 passes for 322 yards.

In view of his age, the injury could mean the end of Perry's career.

The Colts also released rookie tackle Ron Osborne, a future in the 1961 college draft, from Clemson, and defensive back Al Kimbrough, who played his college football at Northwestern.

Appleton Mills wrapped up the championship of the Association Industrial Softball League Thursday night by edging AAL, 6-5, with three runs in the seventh inning.

In other games, Miller Electric topped the Power Company, 17-14 and Western Condensing defeated Sno-Cap, 11-7.

Dave Huhn was the winning hurler for Appleton Mills and Lowell Schroeder took the loss. Dennis Stoffel of the winners had three hits.

Miller's scored in every inning except the fifth in the win over Power Company. Wilbur Doell picked up the win and John Mielke was the loser. Emil Huss had four hits for Miller's.

Western Condensing banged out 12 hits in the win over Sno-Cap as six players had two apiece. Ken Selig was the winner and he recorded eight strikeouts.

Mexico Favored to Cop Doubles Set In Davis Cup Play

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico, already boasting a 2-0 lead, was the overwhelming favorite today to win the doubles match against Yugoslavia in the American Zone Davis Cup competition and advance to the Interzone semifinal against Sweden.

A victory by Mexico in the doubles would make Sunday's final two singles in the best of five series mere formalities.

"It's in the bag," predicted Mexican captain Pancho Contreras.

The Mexicans, who eliminated the United States for the first time ever earlier this month, won both opening singles matches Friday. Rafael Osuna rolled past Nicola Pile, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 and Antonio Palafox whipped Yugoslavia's No. 1 player, Boris Jovanovic, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Star Bar and Subway Bar of Appleton recorded first round victories in the fifth annual Menasha softball tournament here Friday night.

Star ousted Eagles Club of Kaukauna 8-2 while Subway victimized another Appleton entry, Adler Brau, 8-7. Club Oasis stopped My Brothers, 5-0 in the opener. Both are from Oshkosh.

Don Rhode of Star had a two-hit shutout until the last of the seventh when the Eagles collected two runs in their other two hits. Rhode fanned nine. First baseman Bill Bierke led the winning attack with two homers, accounting for three runs.

Subway trailed Adler Brau 7-3 after three innings but tallied three runs in the fourth and two in the fifth. Les Dietzen, who relieved Jerry Olson in the second, was the winning pitcher.

Ray Heimritz, the first hitter to face Dietzen, homered but the veteran hurler pitched shutout ball from then on. Willie Bolwerk, the victim of shoddy support, was the loser. He only allowed five hits.

Don Rumlow hurled a three-hit shutout in Oasis' win over My Brothers. Bob Bettin homered for the winners. Jim Nowell took the loss.

Peters' Bar Wins To Retain Lead

KAUKAUNA—In the Tavern Softball League, Peter's Bar downed Ranch, 4-3, scoring a run in the bottom of the eighth, to retain first place.

Kappell's Bar scored a run in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Rich's, 6-5. Gertz' Bar had little trouble with Powers' Pub, taking a 5-0 decision behind 2-hit pitching of Bob LaPlante. Kappell's winning pitcher was Ernie Coffey. Mark Kerckoff was the loser. Don Steger led Gertz with a triple and a double.

Chisox to Pay For Pitcher's University Course

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox have signed an 18-year-old left-handed high school pitcher ace under a bonus that provides, in part, a fully-paid four-year course at the University of Oregon.

Don McNeal, a 6-2, 170-pounder who compiled a sensational record at South Eugene High School, is the prize landed by the Sox.

Heiman Reich, Chicago scout, said McNeal will receive only a small amount of cash. But, he said, the Sox will pay up to $8,000 for McNeal's four years, if he completes them, at the University.

The sum includes tuition costs, but he must attend classes regularly and complete the course to receive it.

McNeal will enroll this fall. He will be assigned to a White Sox farm team next spring.

Youngster Dies After Being Hit by Baseball

QUEBEC (AP)—A 12-year-old boy died of a cerebral hemorrhage inflicted by a baseball during a sandlot game, an autopsy has shown.

Laurent Laluppe of Quebec became ill early Wednesday after playing the day before and died a few hours later.

After his death, playmates told the boy's parents he had been hit on the head during the game.

Shorty's VFW Bar won the Fraternal Softball League championship Thursday night with a 4-2 victory in 10 innings over Dag's Drive-in.

St. Paul took the runnerup spot with a 10-1 win over Hahn's Lanes and in other games Killoren Company edged Eddie Mullins 7-6 and Northwest Supply blanked UCT, 9-0.

Both VFW and Dag's scored a run in the seventh for a 2-2 deadlock. Neither team scored in the eighth or ninth but in the 10th Carl Bowers singled, and a pair of errors and a sacrifice fly sent the two winning runs across. A double play killed a potential rally by Dag's in the bottom of the 10th. Don Calmes was the winner, and Ray Renier took the loss.

Don Schroeder limited Hahn's to five hits in the win for St. Paul. Tom Kimball led the winners with three hits.

Arlin Burt fashioned a 4-hit shutout for Northwest Supply. He fanned nine batters and walked only one. Ken Hoffman paced the winners with 3-for-3 including a homer.

Killoren scored all seven runs in the second inning and then held off a Mullin rally.

Browns vs. Steelers, Lions vs. Cowboys

Professional Football Features First Double Attraction Tonight

Jim Ninowski can win a lot of friends and influence just as many people tonight, but as they say in show business, he has a tough act to follow.

Ninowski is the Cleveland Browns' new quarterback and he makes his debut before the home folks tonight against the Pittsburgh Steelers in the second game of professional football's first doubleheader.

But he'll have to follow Milt Plum, the Browns' quarterback for the past four years, who leads the Detroit Lions against the Dallas Cowboys in the first game of the National Football League exhibition double.

Plum and Ninowski changed uniforms in an off-season trade along with two other players from each team.

In other NFL exhibitions tonight, the champion Green Bay Packers are in Jacksonville, Fla., to meet the St. Louis Cardinals. Philadelphia's Eagles face the Chicago Bears in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and the Los Angeles Rams play the Minnesota Vikings in Portland, Ore.

Valley Muzzle Loaders Sponsor Invitational Shoot Sunday

The Fox Valley Muzzle Loaders will sponsor an invitational shoot on the organization's range, 13 miles north of Appleton.

The range consists of 30 firing points, and all points have post tables for bench rest firing. Lunch and refreshments will be sold.

The range is situated approximately 1 1/2 miles east of and one-half mile south on County Trunk PP from Black Creek.

Demeter hit a homer for the Phils' only run in the ninth. Four singles, three bases on balls and a wild pitch accounted for the Pirates big third.

Houston had to rally for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to beat the Cubs. Chicago's veteran knuckleball specialist, Barney Schultz wild pitched the tying run home and Hal Smith's pinch-hit single with the bases loaded won it.

New Marina Boat Traffic Heavy

The Lineup of Assorted boat trailers at the High Cliff area is a graphic example of the crowds of Wisconsinites that have taken to the waters in recent years. Although the marina isn't completed, only the launching area is in use, the facility draws hundreds of fishermen and boaters daily and on weekends. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Hundreds of Boaters used the High Cliff State Park Marina landing during a recent weekend. Enthusiasts come from all over the state to enjoy Lake Winnebago's recreational assets. Most of the boats shown are fishing craft, but larger trailer drawn cruisers also use this facility. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Dedication Slated for Next Summer

Although the $175,000 High Cliff State Park Marina is not ready to handle larger cruisers at its docks yet, the boat ramp is being used by pleasure boaters and fishermen.

The marina, located on the northeast shore of Lake Winnebago, will probably be dedicated sometime next summer. The state had hoped to dedicate the facility this September. To use the launching facilities this year there is a daily fee of 50 cents and an annual fee of $2 as required at all Wisconsin state parks.

The 3 1/2-acre harbor has been dredged and the docks are up, but the conservation department decided that the harbor neck must be widened, and the docks lowered so that passengers in smaller boats can step out easily.

It is expected that lights will be installed and a well and waterlines will be completed before the winter freeze-up. The area will probably be blacktopped this fall also. Lowering the docks will be easier after the lake freezes over.

The Boat Slips. Foreground, at the marina are not in use yet. The conservation department plans to lower the docks so that passengers in smaller craft will have an easier time stepping out. This work might be done this winter when the lake freezes over. When the facility is completed, about 180 larger craft will be accommodated at the harbor refuge. (Post-Crescent Photo)

The Golden Years

Retiring Parent Needs Help of Adult Child

BY THOMAS COLLINS

There are those among the adult children of the country who would like to be of service to their retirement-age parents. Here is how they can be.

Recognize the fact that the normal man retiring in 1962 was born in 1897, reached maturity as World War I ended, and may never have finished high school. The normal child of this father, reaching maturity in the late Thirties, has more savvy about the post-war world and less bashfulness. The child, if he or she won't act paternal, could be a competent adviser.

Collins

Advise first on the parent's life insurance. Many older parents are afraid to inquire about the insurance because they fear the man will try to sell them some more. Also they fear they will look stupid. So they ride with what they have. The child can call to explain the various options available to a man about to retire, any of which may be more desirable than what the parent now has. Insurance companies are good about this, but the parent doesn't know it. The presence of a child is reassuring.

Inquire About Pension
Look next into Papa's pension. He is usually hazy about what it provides but is reluctant to go to the front office and ask the sort of frank questions needed for him to know what he's getting.

Determine whether the retiring parents can see to read. Just as older men wistfully comb fading wisps of hair across their balding heads, they also cover up their fading eyesight. In doing so they sacrifice one of the great treasures of retirement, which is reading—like the newspaper.

Usually they can read a bit, but their eyes need glasses or a change of glasses and thus grow tired. But the parent again is too bashful to go for a test, or feels he can't afford it, and the pleasure of reading fades away. The child can insist on a test, and can buy the glasses needed.

Pave the way for some sensible investment advice for the parent. The child, if anything short of a banker, has no business giving the parent investment advice. But the child's broader knowledge of the world can lead the parent to responsible brokers and bankers who can give it. And once more the child has less bashfulness about asking directions. Many retirement-age parents are keeping their savings in accounts that pay them 2 per cent return, or less, or hiding them at home, or letting them lie dormant in a bank account. The child can find ways to get them a safe 4 per cent.

Should See Family
Set up some system whereby the retiring parents can see their children and grandchildren on some regular schedule. Not by moving in next door because the parent generally finds the situation far from the fulfillment he wanted. Maybe a weekly or monthly visit. Maybe a plan whereby the grandchildren spend the night with Grandpa every two weeks. Something like that.

The child will have to arrange it. The parents won't. Find a lawyer who is trustworthy, take him to the parent, prove to the parent he is not a crook, really he's not, and leave them be—for the parent to discuss a will, and income taxes, talk over provisions made for his wife, explore the complications of moving to another state, make arrangements for a cemetery lot and funeral arrangements. If this is a lawyer the child has chosen wisely, there will not be a big fee. And the parent will get a service that is almost imperative nowadays for the person who retires.

Determine if the parent can hear well, and if his feet hurt. There are a good many stores that sell hearing aids, and a few here and there in the cities that sell special comfort shoes that can bring sighs of pleasure to 65-year-old feet. Either or both make nice birthday presents for a child to give. Or Christmas presents. Or presents for no reason at all.

Chemists Build Tracking Set

Private Station Valuable Labor of Love for Experts

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Like to set up your own private space age satellite tracking station?

You can do it with a little equipment and the help of a few specialists in such subjects as astronomy, mathematics, electronics and computer programming.

A group of men at Sohio Research Center, putting hundreds of hours of their own time into a labor of love, have built such a tracking station. By picking up a satellite's radio signals, they can determine the orbit, and tell you where the satellite is now and where it will be when you are finishing your dessert tonight.

Establish Timetables
The team showed how good it was this week by setting up timetables for the two Soviet-manufactured satellites as they whizzed around the earth. Time schedules on orbits were not given out by the Soviets, and it seems likely that the men at Sohio were the only group of hobbyists in the world who had such precise information at their fingertips.

The center distinguished itself by furnishing information to newspapers, radio stations and some radio-television networks. It was one of the few sources of such information in the world.

Dr. A. L. Jones, who heads the group at the Sohio (Standard Oil Co., Ohio) laboratory southwest of Cleveland, wouldn't say how much was invested in equipment, but he indicated it was a relatively small amount.

Yield High
"The yield is awfully high for the investment," is the way he put it.

Sohio foots the bill for the hardware, "but the real value is in the talent we have here," said Jones.

Take the little piece of gear: Ralph Burhans whipped together, to give the precise moment at which a satellite is at the nearest point. The material that went into this piece of equipment designed by Burhans cost only a few hundred dollars, but if you had to buy such an instrument it would cost more than $10,000, Jones said.

Marilyn Monroe's Estate Estimated at More Than $500,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe's will, filed for probate in New York County Surrogate's Court, left an estate estimated in excess of half a million dollars.

The blonde screen star died Aug. 4 of an overdose of sleeping pills.

The will, executed here on Jan. 14, 1961, was filed in New York County Surrogate's Court.

It created a $100,000 trust fund to provide $5,000 a year for the maintenance and support of Miss Monroe's mother, Gladys Baker, who is in an institution.

The trust also provided for the use of her for the furtherance of the work of such psychiatric institutions or groups as she shall and support of Mrs. Michael elect."

Eczema May Result From Food Allergy

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. likely to be successful, unless, of course, you notice that the eczema flares up regularly after the baby has had a particular food.

Watching his clothing and how it is washed, but without success. Can you give me more information about eczema?—J. N. Y.

I knew a pair of babies, were sensitive to cereal, and hence had eczema. But not the same cereal. One was sensitive to wheat, the other to oats. This is an indication of how individual sensitivities can be.

Eczema, in the majority of cases, is a matter of food allergy. It is true that clothing, blankets or like. How much would the opera-fabrics can cause a rash if the baby is sensitive to some material. Sterilization should not be undertaken lightly. Too often a couple later has a change of heart or of the rash is usually a helpful clue. Beyond reasonable cleanliness, the manner in which baby clothes are washed is not likely to be a factor in eczema.

But food sensitivities! Eggs, wheat and milk, all beautiful language. He doesn't mind, in fact, he volunteers getting such foods, and also are pretty close to questions straightened out clearly being universally used in baby diets.

Vegetables, or perhaps even fruits, can be involved. But more by tinkering with the diet isn't

In some instances pasteurized goat's milk or soy bean products have to be substituted for cow's milk.

But rather than experiment yourself, I strongly recommend guidance by either your family doctor or your pediatrician. He will also be able to prescribe local treatment that will take some of the itch out of the eczema.

He will also be able to evolve a non-allergic diet, and that's important to the baby.

Want Sterilization
Dear Dr. Molner: My husband and I have been thinking about sterilization as we cannot afford

Wausau Native Dies in Denver

DENVER (AP)—Earl Pomeroy, 57, a member of the Denver Post staff since 1946, was found dead in his apartment.

The coroner's office said Pomeroy, who had lived alone since the death of his wife three years ago, had been dead several days. He had been in poor health for several years. Death was from natural causes, said the coroner's office.

Pomeroy, reporter, columnist and feature writer, retired from fulltime duty in July, 1961, but continued writing a weekly column.

Before coming to the Post, Pomeroy was night city editor of the Portland Oregonian. Before that he was with the Minneapolis Tribune and the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Pomeroy was a native of Wausau, Wis. Surviving is a son, Alan G. Pomeroy of Denver.

ing angina pectoris. I am told I must take it as long as I live, but I think that having my blood thinned has made me feel lifeless and groggy.—Mrs. M. M.

Long-term use of these drugs is, indeed, called for in a good many cases of heart trouble. It may be that some adjustment in the dose might make you feel better. In any event you should have prothrombin tests (a measure of the clotting quality of the blood) periodically. The anticoagulant drugs don't destroy the nutritional quality of the blood or thin the blood, but merely interfere with the rate at which it clots. Your fatigue, I think, is due to some other cause.

How Long Does It Take a 2800-pound cake of ice to disappear? Residents of Appleton, Wisconsin, and the surrounding area will have an opportunity to answer this question in the near future and those who come up with the correct answer will pick up valuable prizes from Ray's Tire Company.

Ray Plamann, who started as a sold General tires for 37 years. He started working for the Stan-ton Tire Service in 1925 at the age of 18. At the age of 30, in 1937, he purchased the tire business from Clarence Zelle, formed Ray's Tire Company, Inc., and continued as a General Tire dealer.

The grand opening will be a two-day affair, Aug. 24 and 25, and will include all the trimmings... open house, prizes, souvenirs and free services consistently offered by Ray's Tire Company.

The grand opening's promotion will be a 2,800-pound cake of ice. It will be placed in front of the store and all who attend the opening will be given an opportunity to guess the day, hour, minute and second it will disappear. Those who come closest will be awarded prizes.

During the grand opening, Ray also will be celebrating his 25th anniversary as a General Tire dealer, and the first anniversary of the opening of his store in Green Bay.

A veteran tire dealer, Ray has

Internal Revenue Publishes Tax Write-Off Form

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has published some dull reading which, nevertheless, is destined to become a best-seller.

The Internal Revenue Service issued on Friday a 30-page booklet of tables and formulae instructing taxpayers on how to apply the tax depreciation reforms announced last month. The publication is sure to be purchased in quantity by businessmen and tax accountants.

Under the depreciation reform, most businesses will be able to write off against taxes capital investments in new equipment over a shorter period of time than formerly. The Treasury estimates the liberalization move will give businessmen a tax saving of $1.5 billion in the coming year.

The booklet is publication No. 457 and can be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, for 15 cents. The title: "Tables for Applying Revenue Procedure 62-21."

Federal Bureau Proposes Brief Season for Duck

State Wants Shell
Limit to Prevent
Careless Shooting

STURGEON BAY — State conservation commissioners reacted skeptically here Friday to the proposal of the Bureau of Wildlife and Sports Fisheries for an unusually brief 24-25-day waterfowl shooting season for this state in the fall, accompanied by a complex set of waterfowl species options for the hunter.

The commission postponed concurrence in the U.S. government order and directed a subcommittee to review it and to make a recommendation that the full commission can approve in a later telephone poll.

Charles Smith of Wausau and James Smaby of La Crosse compose the sub-committee.

Shooting Limit
The federal proposal is for a 25-day shooting season starting on Oct. 13 on ducks, with a daily bag of two and a possession limit of four and a limit of only one mallard in each day's bag and options on species for the remainder. Some state game officials expressed surprise that the proposal would also permit a hunter to fill his two bag limit with Wood Duck.

The federal plan is for a season from Oct. 1 to Nov. 29 at the Horicon and Necedah refuges and from Oct. 13 to Nov. 29 elsewhere in the state.

State officials apparently are not surprised or especially opposed to the record brevity of the record duck season as suggested. Some of them had expected a closed season because of the unfavorable prospect for a duck crop. They are concerned about the problems of identification of species in the proposed rule and also want time to iron out a quarrel about their proposed limitation on the number of shells hunters may use in shooting geese at the Horicon State preserve.

Control Shells
The state game division had asked for a six-shell limit as a means of discouraging careless shooting. Gov. Nelson this week asked the commission to apply that limit also to blinds on private lands in the neighborhood to avoid the appearance of discrimination.

But chairman Guido Rahr of the commission objected that such a rule on private grounds would be "absolutely unenforceable," and that is apparently what the governor will be told before the commission makes its own decision about waterfowl hunting this fall. The governor is in a position to enforce his will because all commission orders must have his signature to become law.

Neil Schmitz, Kaukauna, edits the "New Idea" magazine on the University of Wisconsin campus in Madison. The magazine, the only literary publication on the campus, has a circulation of about 3,000. Schmitz is a senior in the University.

Town of Menasha Values Increase Over $1.7 Million

Democrat Party candidates met at the Conway Hotel Friday for a candidates' school offered by the state organization. From left are Patrick Lucey, Democrat State chairman, Madison; Robert W. Swanson, First Assembly District candidate, Appleton; Owen F. Properties Assessed at $32,957,940

MENASHA — Assessed valuation of the Town of Menasha this year increased $1,701,550. Town Assessor Edwin P. Harold announced today. Land, building and personal property values total $32,957,940. Land values total $3,180,300, up $129,100; buildings are valued at $24,714,000, an increase of $1,337,700; and personal property values are $4,063,640, a gain of $234,750. Assessor Harold said residential listings total $1,525, a gain of 90 in the last year; mercantile properties total 165, up five, 23 listings are manufacturing companies, up one; and 116 valuations are on agricultural property, also up one.

Residential Values
Residential land is valued at $1,918,400, a boost of $79,800 over last year. Residential improvements, which is the classification for buildings, has a value of $9,246,299, an increase of $812,900. Mercantile land is assessed at $485,400 and buildings at $3,744,200, a gain of $50,000 for land and $30,900 for improvements. Manufacturing improvements are $138,000 for land and $11,200,700 for the buildings. This represents increases over last year of $9,300 in land values and $495,000 in the building assessment values.

Farm Land Down
Agricultural land dropped in valuation by $10,000, down to $638,500, and buildings by $1,600, down to $522,900. Much of this, Harold pointed out, is because farm land has been subdivided into residential property. Personal property valuation of $4,063,640 is made up of $22,270 in livestock, $740,000 in merchants stock, $2,349,800 in manufacturers stock, $42,300 in signboards, $15,000 in amusement and vending machines, $346,100 in machinery, $464,340 in furniture, fixtures and equipment and $23,800 in all other personal property classification.

Blessing, Dedication for New Kimberly Church Set for Sunday

Most Rev. Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona
Of Green Bay Will Officiate at Ceremonies

KIMBERLY — Official blessing from the ceiling. Stations of the cross and dedication of the new $600,000 cross are 8 by 5-foot oil paintings. Holy Name of Jesus church will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday with the Most Rev. Bishop Stanislaus through 14 are still to be completed. V. Bona, Bishop of Green Bay, will bless the edifice and grounds and deliver the main sermon during the solemn high mass.

Celebrant of the mass will be the Rev. Joseph Kools, parish pastor, while the assistants, the Rev. Thomas Mortell and the Rev. Gerald Boureasa, will serve as deacon and subdeacon. James Vanden Hogen will be master of ceremonies, Bernard VandenBerk will be thurifer, Dave Wildenberg and John Vanden Boogaard will be acolytes and servers will be Mark Van Lanen, Paul Van Berkel, Gary Van Cuyk, Paul Van Hey, Everett Wurdinger and Timothy Roovers.

Other Program
The Rev. Richard Ver Bunt will be commentator for the benediction and blessing service, Robert Kroner will be cross bearer. Other ministers for the blessing are Thomas VandenBerk, James Van Dinter, acolytes; William Boelhower, thurifer, and John Schub, master of ceremonies. Dedication of the church marks the end of a construction and improvement program over the last six years in which the parish has spent over $1,000,000. A parish hall addition to the school together with a cafeteria and gym was completed in 1958 at a cost of $300,000. In 1960 a new convent costing $203,000 was completed and later an addition to the rectory was constructed. These projects together with the church run well over $1,000,000.

Church Design
The church resembles Roman architecture, is of cruciform design and has a seating capacity of 1,570, making it one of the largest in the Green Bay diocese. There are no steps in the church making it easy for wheel chair or elderly persons to attend services. A flat, white marble altar toward the front of the church makes it possible for the priest to say mass from either side of the altar. Seating on either side of the altar in the transept is 300 while the nave has a seating capacity of 800 and the choir loft seats 170. Four marble communion tables are located near the altar.

The first mass was celebrated in the church on June 6, 1962. Stained glass windows are located on the east side of the church while those for the west side are on order and will be installed later. The lighting system in the clerk's office, payment on the church is unique, being suspended machine to be made in 1963.

Woman Named Vice President

NEENAH—Mrs. William Campbell, 579 Oak St., was elected senior vice president at the national convention of Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars in Minneapolis. The election of national officers was held at the Friday session of the convention.

The Neenah resident has served in both elective and appointive national offices in the past and is a past state VFW auxiliary president. She was the charter president of Nicolet VFW Auxiliary and now is a member of Hubbard-Peterson Auxiliary. Mrs. Campbell was the first Wisconsin woman to be elected to a national post in the organization.

Members of the Kiwanis Club honored John "Jack" Hermesen, Little Chute business man who announced his retirement after 38 years of barbering, at a dinner recently. Presentation of a gift highlighted the dinner. Left to right are Martin Jansen, Legion commander; Hermesen, William Fitzpatrick, Kiwanis program chairman, and William Winius, Kiwanis president. Finance Committee Favors Purchase of Accounting Machine

KAUKAUNA — Members of the finance committee were given a demonstration of work which can be accomplished on an accounting machine at a recent meeting. Members voted to recommend to the council the advertisement for bids on a machine adequate to handle bookkeeping, payroll and tax work done in the city.

Village of Little Chute Honors Retiring Barber

LITTLE CHUTE—John "Jack" Hermesen who spent 38 years as a barber in the village was honored by the Kiwanis Club after he announced plans to retire later this month.

Hermesen is a lifelong barber of the village and started barbering at the age of 16. He worked initially for Antone "Red" Verkuilen and later opened a shop at Main Street and Grand Avenue. When World War I was declared, he closed the shop and with 11 others enlisted in the army. Upon his discharge from service he opened a shop on Main Street in 1924 and has remained in this establishment since. William Fitzpatrick narrated "This Is Your Life" at the party for Hermesen and the Kiwanis presented him with a razor. Martin Jansen, commander of the American Legion, was present and lauded Hermesen as a Legion member continuously since leaving the army. Hermesen also served as village treasurer from 1937 to 1957.

Other guests of the Kiwanis were the Hermesen dinner were his station on N. Richmond Street, brother, Frank, and two sons, he said she thought she knew Reginald and Don. A third son is one of the youths.

Car Damaged as Girl Strikes Safety Island

MENASHA — A car driven by Sandra L. Felig, 21, 111 W. Beacon Ave., New London, was damaged when it struck a safety island sign at the south end of Racine Street bridge at 11:48 a.m. Friday. She said a car coming off Riverway crowded her car over toward the safety island. A parked car owned by Cleo M. Wickman, Ricker's Bay, Neenah, was damaged by a hit-and-run car when it was parked on Union Street, just off Main Street at 7:12 p.m. Friday.

Hitchhikers Steal Keys

Charlotte Beach, 1206 S. Memorial Dr., reported to police that two boys picked up on County Trunk RR stole her car keys when she stopped at a service station where her station on N. Richmond Street. She said she thought she knew Reginald and Don. A third son is one of the youths.

NEW YORK (AP)—Instead of how headache remedies and up-counting sheep the next time you set-tummy cures work in the husband insomnia, why not instead man body.

Shaggy dog stories.

Career women who try to act "just like one of the boys."

Plastic Tubes

Wives who insist on telling you their husband's faults.

Husbands who insist on telling you their wife's faults.

Plastic tubes you have to squeeze with both hands to get a dribble of mustard or catsup from.

Drip-dry suits that don't require ironing or press—that is, unless you object to looking as wrinkled as a laundry sack.

Push-Button Elevators

Automatic elevators that have so many buttons to push only a man with jet pilot training can get off at the proper floor.

People who tell you, "It's getting a little thin on top, isn't it?"

Any man over 40 who is lean, tanned and muscular — and who wants to let you in on the secret of how you can be that way too.

For the Mets

Roller derbies, college party raids, cocktail canapes, duck-tailed haircuts, and youths who race around small quiet lakes in noisy motor boats.

All race horses that come in second.

Anybody who knocks the New York Mets baseball team — just a color-sound police movie of because they are still a few traffic accidents that pictured the dead, the dying, the mangled and a truck driver burning alive.

Violators See Traffic Fatalities

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—When Judge W. Blair Gibbens took over this beach city's traffic court last October, it didn't take him long to become concerned about rising traffic violations.

So, he sentenced a young woman speeder to four hours of watching wreck victims brought into a receiving hospital emergency ward; made several young male speeders don jail uniforms and sweep streets of traffic accident debris; showed 100 violators a color-sound police movie of traffic accidents that pictured the dead, the dying, the mangled and a truck driver burning alive.

Radioactivity Grows In Wisconsin Lakes

MADISON (AP)—The resumption of nuclear tests has increased surface water radioactivity in Wisconsin's lakes and streams but levels remain well below those considered hazardous, a state report says.

The report was compiled by F. H. Schraufnager, associate public health engineer, and John Sodenwasser, a chemist for the State Board of Health.

They said their findings were based on investigations begun three years ago at water sample collection stations at 10 points in the state.

The report noted that since the Soviet Union broke the nuclear testing ban on Sept. 1, 1961, radioactive values of Wisconsin surface water have increased "5 to 10 times normal."

Jingo Passes on Real Dope on Series Picking

Actors Have to Eat, Sleep, Have Roof Over Head So Art Isn't 'All'

BY JINGO
In his reading, Jingo often comes across articles that he feels might be of interest to his readers. Often he brings the information into local perspective. The following is an Associated Press release by the AP's TV writer Cynthia Lowry that comes directly from the television scene and gives an insight into the workings of the star system. Since TV is as local as your living room, there isn't any need to localize the story further and, hence, it is offered unsullied by Jingo.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I read the script," goes the classic phrase, "and the series (or part) was just so great I couldn't resist it."

For 'Art'

Jingo This is one of those delightful fictions of this make-believe land—that actors are artists and above the everyday necessity of earning rent money and paying the grocer.

"As a matter of fact, a performer is very lucky to land a regular part in a TV series," said actor Allyn Joslyn. "Sure, there's more work around now than there has ever been because of all the television. But a lot of it is just for one day or for a week."

Joslyn is one of the fortunate ones. He has been a successful performer for years in movies — he has a string of more than 60 features to his credit — and has done much television work. Now he is one of the stars of a new NBC comedy series, "McKeever and the Colonel," which will premiere next month.

Actors — except for the big stars and the ones with regular parts in the series — really about two-thirds of all film act-

Prize Ring Adds Newness To TV Today

BY TV SCOUT
9 to End (Channel 11) — At least boxing fans have something new to watch tonight, when Fight of the Week presents Emile Griffith, the world welterweight champion, and Denny Moyer, middleweight, in a 10-round, over-the-weight, non-title (that goes without saying) fight from Tacoma, Wash.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — Everybody involved in tonight's Perry Mason repeat has a good reason for killing the victim. She's an aging movie star, played nastily by Fay Wray, and among the candidates for the guilty party are her manager, the daughter she won't admit is hers, the daughter's nervous husband, an ex-matinee idol now her business manager and her old retainer. They all hated her, and you can see why.

7:30-8 (Channel 4-5) — The Tall Man takes to the hills in a repeat that verges on all the clichés, but somehow manages to avoid a couple of them. John Anderson appears as one of those spit-and-polish Army men who commandeers the services of Pat (Barry Sullivan) and Billy (Glu Gulager) on a mission to accept the surrender of Apache chief Chatto.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — The masculine stirrings in the juvenile soul of Beaver are again the subject of the repeat on Leave It To Beaver. This time, they cause him to think he likes Penny, the girl who has been his chief thorn-in-the-side since kindergarten.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Defenders repeats another well-plotted mystery, with the scene shifting from the usual civilian court to an Air Force court martial. The defendant is accused of killing an officer by cutting through his parachute cords before a jump. Preston and Preston (E. G. Marshall and Robert Reed) undertake the defense and it leads to a few skeletons in the foot lockers. Chester Morris is excellent as a straight-laced officer who softens during the trial.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — A 12-year-old crime show, which is beginning to show its whiskers is the repeat offering on Saturday Night at the Movies. "Where the Sidewalk Ends" may have been gripping when it first came out, but television fans have been through so much of this that it's now gripless.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Gunsmoke tries to update "The Taming of the Shrew," with a comedy-romance about two headstrong kids and their headstrong romance. Sue Ane Langdon and Dick Sargent are the couple, and both are so given to violence that it's hard to have much sympathy for either one (although Sue Ane is cute plotted mystery, with the scene shifting from the usual civilian

Conservation Department Wants Bong

Plans to Buy Base, Sell at Later Time to Industry, Business

STURGEON BAY (AP) — The Wisconsin Conservation Commission has approved a plan under which it would take over more than 4,000 acres of the abandoned Bong Air Force base in southeastern Wisconsin.

The commission voted at its meeting here Friday to pay $208,000 for 1,700 acres of the base and ask the Federal General Services Administration to release to it without cost another 2,400 acres. The federal agency has been given authority to dispose of the base.

Resell Later

The Wisconsin-Federal Surplus Property Commission, set up by the Legislature, proposed that the Conservation Commission buy the 1,700 acres and then resell it for industrial and business development.

Under law, however, the commission is prohibited from buying land except for conservation purposes. Therefore, it was decided to have the commission buy the land for that purpose only now and then ask the Legislature to amend the law so it could dispose of the land for other purposes later.

The 2,400 acres which the commission seeks free from the federal agency can be used only for conservation, outdoor recreation and park purposes.

The commission also purchased 6,500 acres for $821,000 for fish management purposes and for forests and parks. The purchases include 2,700 acres, bought for $300,000 for public hunting grounds.

Also Approved

Also approved was expenditure of $25,000 for 64,000 feet of stream and lake easements; spending of $142,000 to improve forest and park roads, and $63,000 for parking lots on game and fish lands.

The commission also approved an option to buy Rock Island in Lake Michigan for $175,000. The island has about 900 acres but the Coast Guard owns 125 acres which it would keep. The island would be turned into a state park and boat harbor.

The commission also gave the department permission to cooperate with the city of Madison and Cherokee Park, Inc., in developing a park and lake near the Madison airport. The Cherokee firm has given the commission 300 acres there.

A committee to draft a 1962 duck and goose hunting season within the federal limit set down Thursday, was named by the commission. The committee will report to director Lester Voigt and he will poll commission members by phone before announcing the Wisconsin hunting dates.

Rural Green Bay Man Injured in Brillion

A 35-year-old rural Green Bay man was seriously burned in an industrial accident at the Brillion Iron Works Friday.

Lawrence Bittner, route 3, Green Bay, was taken to St. Vincent Hospital, Green Bay, by Lindy's Ambulance after he received burns on his arms, legs and back. Bittner was working in the foundry when he was burned, an ambulance attendant said.

The 1962 annual joint meeting of the Wisconsin Sanatorium Trustees Association and the Wisconsin Sanatorium Superintendents Association will be held in Appleton and Kaukauna Sept. 14 and 15. About 60 persons are expected to attend.

The sessions will open Sept. 14 at the Conway Hotel, with registration at 3 p.m. and separate business meetings for the two groups from 3:30 to 6 p.m.

Edward F. Schneider, a trustee of Riverview Sanatorium and Hospital, Kaukauna, and president of the state trustees' association,

Farmers to Hold Fair on AAL Lot

Giles R. Flanagan, secretary of the Appleton Downtown Retail Association, announced today that the committee which has been working on the location for a new site for the farmers market in conjunction with the county agricultural office and Mayor Clarence Mitchell, have made arrangements with the Aid Association for Lutherans to hold the market on their parking lot in the downtown area. The lot is on Washington and Superior streets.

The change in location of this market was necessitated because of the construction of a new parking ramp in downtown Appleton. The fair or farmers market has been held in Appleton for many years on the last Saturday of each month.

Outagamie Group Sponsors Nursery For Retarded Children

A nursery program for mentally retarded children, called "New Hope Nursery", will again be sponsored by the Outagamie County Council for Retarded Children Inc., starting in September. Classes will be held from 7 to 9 a.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at All Saints Episcopal Church. The director will be Mrs. Herbert Brock.

Parents who want additional information or wish to register their children should call 4-4597 or come to 724 E. Fremont St. on Monday. Classes will begin Sept. 4.

Teacher, One Of 2 Leaders At McKinley

An aspiring teacher, Miss Sandra Reim, was teamed up with Hortonville teacher Russel F. Hildebrand at the McKinley School playground.

Reim Hildebrand

Miss Reim, 20, 102 W. Northland Ave., Appleton, is planning to be a physical education instructor. A senior at Wisconsin State College at La Crosse, she is president of the Alpha Phi Delta Lambda chapter, secretary and representative of the Campus Controls Council and a historian of the Delta Psi Kappa National Honorary Professional fraternity.

In connection with her hobby interest in drama, she was a member of the Curtain Call Acting Club at Appleton High School.

During the year Hildebrand, 28, 221 1/2 N. Bennett St., Appleton, teaches general science, history, math and drivers education at Hortonville High School. He is a member of the Hortonville Education Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. A graduate of Oshkosh State College, he was a member of the Delta Kappa fraternity and the Ski Club.

Village Voters Must Register For Primary

KIMBERLY — Persons planning to vote in the September primary and who have not previously registered can sign at the village clerk's office through 5 p.m. Aug. 29, according to Mrs. Katherine Lochschmidt, clerk.

The clerk will hold office hours from 1 to 8 p.m. Wednesday for the convenience of persons unable to register during normal office hours. Persons previously registered are not required to re-register. Persons who will be 21 by Sept. 11 and who have resided in Kimberly for 10 days prior to the election are eligible to vote.

Widow of Ex-Packer Head

Mrs. Russell Bogda To Wed Earl Miller

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Mrs. Russell Bogda, widow of the former president of the Packers and local auto dealer, and W. Earl Miller, former president of Ed Schuster and Co., Milwaukee, have applied for a marriage license at the Brown County courthouse.

The couple applied for the license Aug. 13 and plan to be married Tuesday at Grace Lutheran Church here.

Mrs. Bogda lives at 1013 S. Jackson St. She was born in Green Bay and married the late Mr. Bogda in 1935. He died Feb. 22, 1958. They had two children, Russell Jr., and Julie Lynn.

Miller of Fox Point, a Milwaukee suburb, was president of Schuster stores and became a vice-president of Gimbel Brothers after the Gimbel-Schuster store merger earlier this year. He recently resigned to become a vice-president of a Los Angeles chain store. Miller's wife whom he married in 1935 died Sept. 20, 1961.

Mrs. Bogda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor. Her late husband was president of Bogda Motor Co. and head of the Packers from 1953 to his death.

Miller's daughter, Sandra, Milwaukee, will attend the wedding. His son, William, an investment banker in New York City, will be unable to attend.

Mrs. Bogda's daughter, Julie, presently is attending summer camp, and a son, Russell Jr., is returning from California where he spent the summer in law practice.

He will return to Harvard law school this fall for his third year of schooling. The two Bogda children will not attend the wedding.

Mrs. Bogda said she and her husband will leave on a wedding trip Tuesday and then move to the Los Angeles area where they will reside.

Claims Innocence On Drunk Charge

John S. Heenan, 67, 623 S. Locust St., pleaded innocent to drunken driving when he appeared Friday in County Court, Branch 2. Trial was set for Dec. 6 with $200 bond.

Appleton police arrested Heenan after a minor accident Aug. 10 on W. College Avenue.

Vandals With A Flair For Color Decorate Car With Nail Polish

The owner of a 1960 model car reported that it was painted by vandals while it was left parked from 7:50 a.m. to 5:05 p.m.

Katherine Haug, 516 N. Bennett St., said she parked her car in a city lot at the northwest corner of Washington and Division streets. When she came back, she found a red cross painted on one hub cap, the right bumper and right rear fender painted white, and "MA'S FEAR" printed on the right rear fender with pink nail polish.

More Spending
New Plan to Aid
Slow Economy

Pump-Priming Moves
Take Place of Any
'Quickie' Tax Cut

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Faster pumping of government funds into the economy is being tried again in lieu of a quickie tax cut.

The sum so far committed—$2 billion to speed highway building—is smaller than the $5-$10 billion cut in income taxes previously considered. But the object is the same — to get a slowing down economy moving again at a brisker pace.

The administration may think up other pump-priming moves to ward the same end, while it waits for the tax cut and tax reforms.

Immediate Use
Speeding up federal spending also was used in 1960 to nudge a lagging economy. Veterans insurance dividends for example were made earlier than usual, and tax refunds were speeded.

The $2 billion this time is being made available to such states as have highway projects far enough along to make immediate use of it. Only about a dozen are reported in that group. The object is to get construction contracts let in coming weeks and thus open up more jobs.

If all the $2 billion is spent with in the next few months it also will trickle through the economy in the form of orders for materials, road equipment and spending by workers who get whatever new jobs are created.

Quick Job
The accent is on doing a quick job. The $2 billion doesn't add to the total amount to be spent by the federal government as part of the huge highway program. It is simply being made available now rather than in the future.

The money comes out of a special fund set up to finance the 41,000-mile interstate highway program.

The states put up part of the money but the federal government will put up most.

Commit Money
The states had been told they could sign contracts involving $3.8 billion of federal money in the fiscal year ending next June 30. The Commerce Department now says the special trust fund is big enough to take care of $5.8 billion in contracts this fiscal year.

And the department adds that the states can commit this federal money in this quarter end, on Sept. 30, instead of the $948 million originally allowed for this period.

If those states in position to sign contracts now use up the extra allotment it will add $2 billion to potential spending in the immediate future. And it is in this current period of uncertainty that the federal government is most anxious to see more money spent, more plans started, more orders let.

Other Gestures
Other gestures include the recent relaxing of depreciation allowance rules for tax purposes with the hope that business would order more new equipment plan more new factories and other facilities.

Several bills that would involve more federal spending are before the Congress.

Some economists question the long-term value to the economy of pump priming by increased government spending. But along with tax cutting it is one of the methods that comes first to mind when economic stagnation is feared.

Institute
Researcher
Wins $1,000

Dr. Louis E. Wise, Appleton senior research associate at the Institute of Paper Chemistry has been named first prize winner in the $1,000 prize presented in Atlantic City, N. J. Sept. 11 at the division's 40th anniversary dinner. The society will hold its 142nd national meeting there Sept. 9 to 14.

The division established the award earlier this year to honor and to encourage outstanding professional contributions to the science and chemical technology of cellulose and its allied products. A number of companies have contributed to the award fund.

Dr. Wise is an authority on the chemical identification of cellulose from different sources. He has been author and co-author of more than 125 publications on cellulose and wood chemistry over the past half century.

A native of New York City, he received the B. A. in 1907 and the Ph. D. in organic chemistry in 1911 from Columbia University. He has taught there and at the University of Missouri, the New York State College of Forestry and Rollins College. He also has worked for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the War Department and the Du Pont Company.

Bids Being Accepted for New Structure

Plans Completed
For Black Creek
Municipal Building

BLACK CREEK — Plans for the new proposed one-story Black Creek Municipal building have been completed by designer Albert Krueger, Marion.

Bids are being submitted to Harrison Kollath, village clerk. They will be opened Sept. 4. The building will be constructed at the intersections of Oak and Maple Streets, the site of the present municipal building.

The structure will include a fire station fronting on Oak Street with three stalls, approximately 13 feet long. There also will be a 14 by 50 foot stall for village equipment.

A 21 by 19 foot lobby with an entrance to the library and a 20 by 21 foot council room will be built on Maple Street. The overall size of the building will be 50 by 80 feet.

Specifications include masonry block and brick construction and a new sidewalk, curb and gutter on Oak and Maple streets.

Painter Takes Powder On Menasha Woman

MENASHA — Mrs. Ben Stepanski, 872 Second St., reported to police Friday that a Green Bay party had painted the roof of her home in June with an aluminum paint that was to be good for 10 years and that now the roof leaked.

She said she wrote to this party at the address given her and the letter came back with indication there was no such address.

Counseling the Gifted

Dean of Girls Was 'Mainlander' At Guidance Institute in Hawaii

Miss Annabelle Wolf, dean of girls at Appleton High School, was one of four "mainlanders" at a graduate institute in advanced guidance and counseling at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu this summer.

The seven-week institute, sponsored by the National Defense Education Act, included theory, statistics, and supervised practice in guidance and counseling.

Each counselor worked with three gifted and "able" high school juniors and seniors, mainly helping them with their plans for the future.

Same Problems
"I thought they would be so different from students here," said Miss Wolf, "but they have the same problems."

The problems of gifted students are not different from those of other students, she noted, but they recognize them better. They have a lot of insight and are eager to plan their future, being perhaps a little more concerned at an earlier age than others, she said.

They are interested in so many things that they have a problem of narrowing down their interests, she added.

Exchange of Ideas
The biggest benefit of the institute, Miss Wolf found, was the exchange of ideas, getting away from one area and finding that the problems are universal—helping the students to plan their fu-

These Children Will Be Starting School Soon

Only Two Of Them
Will Go To College . . .

WILL YOUR CHILD GO?

Two out of five of these new babies will go to college, according to projections that statisticians make of current trends. Which two will be the fortunate ones depends in large degree on financial considerations. These youngsters are growing fast. They'll be "college size" before you know it! The important thing is to have a saving account that is keeping pace . . . growing right along with them, so that it will be "college size" the same time they are.
